

JESUS IS A JEW:

Does That Affect the Gospel?

An Anglican Conference
Wednesday, October 21

Since the Holocaust there has been an explosion of Christian scholarship asking, How did this take place in the most Christianized country in history, the birthplace of the Reformation? Did we get Jews and Judaism somehow wrong? What are the implications for our understanding of Jesus and the gospel?

We want to reflect on these questions and consider how they affect our understanding of Jesus, the gospel, and our Anglican churches.

There will be plenty of time for Q&A and fellowship.
